

Seven wins AFMA awards

(19 September 2017) Seven AFL commentator Brian Taylor and Seven News reporter Tom Browne were tonight honoured at the Australian Football Media Association awards.

Brian Taylor was awarded the Lou Richards Medal for his work on Seven's AFL coverage in 2017.

The medal is awarded to a former or current league footballer working in the media. It recognises all the qualities displayed by Lou throughout his career on and off the field including his personality, humour and ability to talk about the game.

Tom Browne was awarded the AFMA for the Most Outstanding Breaking News Report for his exceptional work on the story of Dustin Martin signing his new seven-year contract with the Tigers.

The award recognises the art of meeting a deadline on an unfolding story with accuracy and new information.
