

Seven West Media recognised as Media Sales Team of the Year

Seven West Media has been recognised as 'Media Sales Team of the Year' at the prestigious B&T awards.

Commenting on the award, Kurt Burnette, Chief Revenue Officer, Seven West Media, said: "This caps off the year and is testament to our entire team and the great work our company does with our clients across our television, publishing and digital businesses. Our teams across Australia work tirelessly to bring our clients' campaigns to life through integrated thinking, innovation and a determination to deliver the best results in the business.

"Collaboration and innovation drive us and I want to thank every member of our team for their outstanding contribution this year," he said. "On behalf of the team at Seven West Media, I also thank our clients for trusting us to deliver outstanding results across our powerful multiple content delivery platforms."

Now in its 10th year, the annual B&T Media Awards were presented in 30 categories to recognise excellence in media service and delivery.
