

SEVEN WEST MEDIA WIN BIG AT THE WA MEDIA AWARDS

(Wednesday, November 2, 2016) Seven West Media continues to dominate the West Australian media landscape, with our integrated newsroom taking out a number of awards at last weekend's WA Media Awards.

Seven West Media (The West Australian and 7 Perth) received the following awards:

West Australian Journalist of the Year
– Daily News Centenary Prize 2016

ANDREW PROBYN
Medicare Privatisation
The West Australian

Political Report – The Beck Prize– All Media

ANDREW PROBYN
Mediscare
The West Australian

News Report- Print/Text

ANDREW PROBYN
Medicare Privatisation
The West Australian

The Clarion Award for Outstanding
Contribution to Journalism

NICK EVANS
The West Australian

Sports Report
– The Gilmour-Christian Prize – Media

JOHN TOWNSEND
Eagles dodge drugs bullet
The West Australian

News Story or Feature
– Television/Audio-Visual Journalism

JESSICA PAGE
Parents versus Doctors
Seven News

Broadcast Camerawork – All Media

CAMERON WALLIS
Devil Inside – Power of Meth
Seven News

Special congratulations to Andrew Probyn who was awarded West Australian Journalist of the Year, for his breaking and in-depth reports on Medicare privatisation.

Chris Wharton, Chief Executive Officer of Seven West Media said: "This list really illustrates the depth and range of talent we have. I am proud to lead such a high quality team that is setting the news agenda locally and nationally."

- END

For further information, please contact:

Belinda Giglia
Channel Seven Publicity
P: 0419 015 282
E: bgiglia@seven.com.au