

London calling Home and Away

Channel Seven and UK's Channel 5 today announced its leading weeknight serial drama Home and Away will film episodes in the UK later this year.

4 September 2013: Next month will see Home and Away swap their summer t-shirts and shorts for warmer clothing as they head from Summer Bay to London to work on episodes that will go to air next year.

Series Producer Lucy Addario said: "We are thrilled that Home and Away will be returning to London to shoot this exciting storyline. It's also a wonderful opportunity to bring the heart and soul of Summer Bay to the home of our loyal UK audience."

The storyline follows a number of central characters faced with a challenge – do they let go of what is most important in their lives or do they put up a desperate fight to hold onto people they love?

Home and Away is an in-house production for the Seven Network. It is Australia's leading weeknight serial drama and is sold to more than 105 countries.
