

Rachel Khoo joins Zumbo on JUST DESSERTS

Seven's new desserts show just got a whole lot sweeter.

(11 April 2016) Acclaimed British chef Rachel Khoo will host ZUMBO'S JUST DESSERTS alongside Australia's most celebrated pâtissier, Adriano Zumbo.

Rachel was last seen on Channel Seven as the surprise judge on MY KITCHEN RULES, charming audiences with her fair but honest critiques.

On ZUMBO'S JUST DESSERTS, she'll be at the helm with Zumbo as they go in search of Australia's sweetest home cooks.

Amateur dessert makers from around the country will put their sweet making skills to the test until the ultimate dessert king or queen is crowned.

Having studied and trained in French Pâtisserie in Paris, Rachel says: "I'm super excited and looking forward to focusing on what got me into food. Plus I absolutely love desserts."

This will be her first time working with Adriano Zumbo. "I've admired his work for many years. He's got an amazing talent for making not only stunning looking desserts but also desserts that taste as good as they look."

The chef and best-selling author has worked with some of the world's top chefs, including Jamie Oliver. She has also filmed five cooking and travel TV programs in the past four years, including Rachel Khoo's Kitchen Notebook: Melbourne.

ZUMBO'S JUST DESSERTS – an original Channel Seven concept from the makers of MY KITCHEN RULES – is coming soon.
