Zumbo whips up new desserts show for Seven

Adriano Zumbo goes in search of Australia's sweetest home cooks.

Australia's very own Willy Wonka - Adriano Zumbo - will host Channel Seven's exciting new cooking show.

Zumbo's Just Desserts will search for Australia's sweetest home cooks. Under Zumbo's watchful eye, amateur dessert makers will put their sweet making skills to the test. Who will rise to the challenge? And who will crumble?

Adriano Zumbo is one of Australia's most celebrated patissiers. From his melt-in-the-mouth Zumbarons to his show-stopping croquembouche, his sweet creations are legendary.

The Prince of Pastries says he's looking forward to unearthing the country's best sweet makers.

"Who doesn't love desserts? It's everyone's favourite course and this show will be a trip into my wonderful world of pastry," Zumbo said. "I can't wait to share my latest sweet creations – they're out of this world!"

Zumbo's Just Desserts - an original Seven concept from the makers of My Kitchen Rules - is coming soon to Seven.
