The Daily Edition announces full line-up

Afternoon television set for total makeover as the premiere of The Daily Edition gets closer.

(Thursday June 6, 2013 – For Immediate Release)

The Daily Edition today announced the signing of international athlete Kris Smith to share hosting duties with Sally Obermeder.

Kris is one of Australia's best known faces thanks to his red carpet appearances and modelling campaigns - and as a sought after guest on many of this country's most successful television and radio programs.

Joining Sally and Kris at the desk will be Tom Williams and Monique Wright, formerly from Seven News.

Addressing the hot issues of the day with lively discussion, celebrity interviews and crosses to newsmakers around the country, The Daily Edition will take a leadership position in providing live content to an audience waiting to be entertained.

Further announcements will be made in coming days.
