

26 February 2014

Seven snares Mick Molloy in Buddy big AFL deal

Comedian Mick Molloy has signed with Seven's Saturday Night Footy team in the biggest trade coup since Lance 'Buddy' Franklin landed in Bondi.

A self-professed Tigers' tragic, Molloy will join Luke Darcy, Brian Taylor, Matthew Richardson, Cameron Ling and Sam Lane for the hour-long preview show on Saturday Night Footy throughout the 2014 AFL season.

He will not be required to wear a suit and tie.

"It's the biggest move for Seven since Celebrity Splash. And I couldn't be happier to be at Seven, the only network that hasn't sacked me yet," said Molloy.

The managing director of Seven Melbourne, Lewis Martin, said:

"Rumours of a nine-year deal testing our salary cap are wide of the mark. But we can confirm that Mick brings an entertaining voice from the outer which footy fans will love."

Saturday Night Footy returns at 6.30pm AEDT on Saturday March 15, LIVE on Channel 7 and 7mate.

Ends

Further information contact Greg Smith on 0438 777 164